Westerly Hopes for New Station

Probability of Improved Railroad Facilities—Ministers Hear Informing Paper by Rev. Albert F. Earnshaw—Mrs. M. H. Scanlon and Daughter Seriously Ill—Athletic and Industrial Interests.

At an early date the Dixon bridge over the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, the company leading from Railroad avenue to the Dixon homestead will be removed, and this is taken as indicating that the work of improving the railroad facilities of Westerly, including a new passenger station, is to become a reality. When this road was built over 75 years ago, a right of way was acquired through the Nathan Fellows Dixon property, with the agreement that the railroad company would provide a way to reach the Dixon residence.

Recently the railroad company had the Dixon property condemned for railroad purposes, but subsequently the property was acquired by direct purchase, and includes the Dixon mansion, the home of the first Nathan Fellows Dixon, who was United States senator in 1839-42; the second Nathan Fellows Dixon, representative in congress 1849-51 and 1852-71, and of the third Nathan Fellows Dixon, who was United States senator 1889-1895. The two last named were father and brother, respectively, of Walter P. Dixon, the present occupant of the mansion, and the last male member of the Dixon family.

Two of the Nathan Fellows Dixons were in the directory of the old New York, Providence and Boston Railroad company, and granted concession to the company for a right of way through the Dixon property, the track level being far below the surface of the remaining Dixon property, so low that trains were obscured from view in their passage.

For several years after the railroad was built entrance to the Dixon homestead was by a driveway along the side the present freight depot. About thirty years ago there was need for more room in the freight yard, and by mutual agreement the Dixon property was taken over and the wooden bridge from Railroad avenue substituted. With this bridge removed, and pending the vacating of his birthplace by Walter P. Dixon, access to the old homestead will be by the West street bridge.

The action of the railroad company in securing adjoining land in Westerly and making effort to reclaim property in Pawtucket is convincing that the projected plan of improvement at and near the Westerly station has not been abandoned.

Rev. Albert F. Earnshaw, pastor of the Congregational church in Mystic, read an interesting and instructive paper Monday at the regular meeting of the Westerly Ministerial association, held in the conference room of the Memorial and Public Library building. His subject was Mysticism, Its History and Value, and all joined in discussion of the excellent paper. Rev. Mr. Earnshaw was given a vote of thanks by the society.

New Haven.—A warning against the employment of child labor without having the usual school certificate of age was sounded when William Arthur, proprietor of the New Haven Wire Bound Box company, was brought before the court upon that charge and fined $10 with costs.

Middletown.—A meeting of the joint committees of the Middletown Business Men's association and the Twentieth Century club was held with Postmaster Arthur B. Caldwell at the post office Monday afternoon to talk over the best plan of procedure toward getting a new postoffice building for this city.

Where Are the Poets?

A writer in a leading English periodical laments the decline of poetry, and wonders why the poetic sentiment and its expression should have undergone decay. Is there truth in this? We think not.

There may not be a great living poet who is now uttering golden words—no Tennyson, Browning, Swinburne or Rossetti—but there is a regiment of minor poets who are singing sweetly, and when the value of their choral is taken into full account it may be found that we are not the losers for the lack of a dominant voice.

The world emits a Shakespeare, a Shelley, a Goethe but seldom a Keats. We cannot expect every decade to produce a poetic genius. But what we are hearing in our literary world today is perhaps just as remarkable as though there came a rush of exquisite melody from some master singer. It is a chorus of expert rhymers, many of them worthy of a far more than a passing notice, but which would surely have been theirs 50 or 100 years ago.—Philadelphia Press.

A Mother's Love

wisely directed, will cause her to give to her little ones only the most wholesome and beneficial remedies and only when actually needed, and the well-informed mother uses only the pleasant and gentle laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—when a laxative is required, as it is wholly free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Whooping Cough

is one of the most dreaded epidemic diseases—it is highly contagious and very often results fatally—The death rate from Whooping Cough is almost as high as from Scarlet Fever—it is half as high as that of Diphtheria.

Children attacked by Whooping Cough suffer terribly. For several months—the racking and straining often cause other serious complications. Especially if the old fashioned idea of letting the disease run its course is adopted.
